

Password Input

The password input component accepts a single line of text and hides the value.

To use this component, first you insert it by selecting Insert > Form > Password Input. Then, you configure style and behavior using properties.

For more information about using input components, see Designing Input Components.

For a detailed reference of properties that affect input components, see Common Properties and Input Component Properties.

Password input components in DGLux5

Previous: Text Area

Next: Date Input

From:
<https://wiki.dglogik.com/> - DGLogik

Permanent link:
https://wiki.dglogik.com/dglux5_wiki:widgets_and_property_inspector:form_input:password:home

Last update: 2021/09/20 15:03

